

RootsTech 2023: Attend In-Person or Virtually With Many Benefits Till 2025

FamilySearch, an arm of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, is preparing for its annual worldwide convention March 2-4 at the Salt Palace Convention Center. Thousands of people throughout the world participate in the annual event either in-person or online. There have been 200 new classes added to the convention in 2023.

Statistical Trends That Provide A Solid Building Block for Genealogical Success.

I have attended almost every conference since its inception in February 2011, drawing around 3,000 people. It was held again in 2012, drawing 4,500 people. In 2013, it drew 6,700 registered attendees with over 13,600 remote attendees and many attendees and vendors coming from other countries around the world. There's even an on-demand library with 1,500 sessions on 185 topics in over 30 languages. All clinic presentations will be streamed till 2025 for all those that register either on-location at the Salt Palace in Salt Lake City or virtually on-line. Note: the virtual attendees can attend for FREE and all attendees (on-location and virtual) can stream all clinics till 2025!

RootsTech 2023 Quote of the Day

“At RootsTech 2023, we will be creating ways to bring all audiences in to see what’s happening in Salt Lake City, Utah, but also enabling those participating in-person in Salt Lake City to see what’s happening virtually around the world,” said Jen Allen, director of events at FamilySearch, in a full press release that can be viewed by clicking here.

Closing Comments

Never underestimate the power of a quality genealogy conference. RootsTech will not disappoint you. With the COVID pandemic in the background, don't hesitate. Numbers don't lie since its inception in 2011 with incredible attendance and significant expansion attracting world-famous genealogists and experts. It is definitely worth your time to attend in either conference format. And the price is RIGHT with benefits to 2025!
